

BIG WESTERN WEEKEND; AMATEUR RODEO SAT., GYMKHANA RALLY SUN.

Drayton Valley Driver Wins Stock Car Trophy

Bill Kovacs of Drayton Valley topped a field of 14 entries to win the Annual Alberta Trophy for "Class C" Stock Cars at a race meet in Red Deer, August 4th.

Mr. Kovacs, driving a car sponsored by Emil and Bill's Service, won the 25-lap race despite almost rolling the car near the end of the race. He finished with the A-frame broken and one wheel twisted far out of alignment.

A large crowd was on hand at the Red Deer Auto Racing Association's oval to see the Drayton Valley driver also receive the trophy for the fastest car of the day.

A partner with Emil LaBranche in Emil and Bill's Service, Mr. Kovacs came here from Wetaskiwin last September. Their car is being used regularly at Alberta meets, including those at Edmonton and Camrose.

Committee Studies Fair Possibilities

A joint meeting of committees from the Drayton Valley Lions Club and the Drayton Valley Rotary Club met recently to consider the possibility of joining resources for the promotion of an event along the lines of a fall fair in the community.

Those present felt that the summer was too far advanced to make plans for this year but steps are to be taken to promote the event next summer. An investigation committee was set up to study the matter and to look into the organization and promotion of the Drayton Valley Fair Board which promoted successful fairs in 1963 and 1964 before disbanding.

The investigation committee is chaired by Adam Eckert with Mike Gornley as secretary. Other members are Dan Gregor, Bert Demers, Fred Schipper and Gordon Hay representing the Lions Club and Rotary representatives Bob Mayhew, Fred Raven, Bob Doig and Len Bannard.

The Committee will endeavor to get as much information as possible for another meeting to be held in September.

PLANT IDENTIFIED AS A BURRDOCK

It appears that the strange plant that shot up in the Walter Romano garden and reported in a recent issue of The Western Review is a Burrdock. This is the general opinion of those who saw and read about the plant and are familiar with it in other parts of Canada.

The plant apparently grows freely in scrub and waste land in Ontario and British Columbia, but none of those who identified it had ever seen it in Alberta.

How the plant arrived in the Romano garden is a mystery but to ensure that it gets no further Mr. Romano is burning the branches as they dry out.

Plans are being completed this week for the 2nd Annual Klondike Stampede to be held at Sekura Auctions on Saturday, August 17th. The event kicks off a western weekend in Drayton Valley, being followed on Sunday by the North-western Gymkhana Rally featuring top riders from ten West Central Alberta clubs.

Saturday's activities get underway with a pancake breakfast from 8:30 to 10:00 a.m., followed by a parade at 10:30. Bob Doig is parade marshal and further information in this regard may be obtained by contacting him at 542-4337.

At 1:00 p.m. the All-ama-teur Jackpot Rodeo gets underway with trophies or buckles and added purse in each event. Events will include bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, cow riding, calf roping, steer decorating, wild cow milking, junior steer riding, ladies' steer undecorating, businessmen's wild goat milking and a junior wild horse race.

Entries for the rodeo events close at 6:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 15th and may be phoned to either 727-2350 or 542-4664.

Rodeo queens will be judged at the grounds at 12:30 and a feature of the late afternoon will be a barbeque from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. A midway will also be set up on the grounds.

The big day will wind up with a Cowboy Ball in the Centennial Civic Centre at 9:00 p.m. with a western band providing the music.

Stock contracting for the rodeo events will be by Lawrence Sharkey. Mr. Sharkey plans to drive the bucking stock of about 40 horses up from the river pasture and to the rodeo grounds on Friday evening. He expects to be trailing the animals through town about 7:00 p.m.

10 Clubs Take Part In Rally

Drayton Valley will be the scene of a great deal of western action this weekend with the 2nd Annual Klondike Stampede on Saturday, followed on Sunday, August 18th by the Northwestern Alberta Gymkhana Rally.

The big gymkhana, featuring outstanding riders from ten clubs, will be starting at 11:00 a.m. at the Lions West Valley Park. The day's activities will get underway with gymkhana events followed by horse races.

Clubs that will be taking part in the gymkhana are: Host Club, Lariat Gymkhana, Drayton Valley, Pembina River Riders, Evansburg, Smithfield Gymkhana Club, Duffield, Western Gymkhana Club, Lindale, Winfield Light Horse Association, Winfield, Big Horn Saddle Club, Hinton, Thorsby Barrel Busters, Thorsby, Paddle Valley Trail Riders, Mayerthorpe, Evergreen Saddle Club, Edson.

The Carson & Barnes Circus, now in its 68th annual nationwide tour of the U.S. and Canada, is considered the 2nd largest of the traveling tented circuses and carries the largest menagerie in America today - the circus spokesman emphasized that it is "A real old fashioned, exciting American traditional-type of 4 ring circus under a real big tent and is the first American circus to present its performance in 4 rings making every seat a ringside seat, European style. A special note of interest to circus goers, all seats first come first served basis. Early comers will have a ringside seat at no additional charge.

A letter of resignation from Mayor Bob Findlay was received in the Town Office this week. Mr. Findlay notes in his letter that circumstances involving a considerable amount of travelling this summer do not permit him to carry out his duties as mayor.

Mr. Findlay still had one year to serve, of his three year term. An election for mayor and two or three councillors will be held in October.

Shower Fetes Magnolia Bride

A miscellaneous shower was held in the Magnolia Hall, Saturday afternoon, July 13th in honor of Miss Patricia Ann McCracken whose marriage to Larry Brydges took place July 20th.

The hall was decorated with wedding bells and streamers. The bride-to-be's table was centred with a beautiful cake made by Patricia's aunt, Marie MacDougall of Keep-hills.

For entertainment the guests were given a paper serviette and requested to tear out a wedding bell behind their backs, with some of the results proving very amusing.

Pat's sisters, Janie and Gail, assisted in opening the gifts which were passed around for everyone to admire. When all the gifts were opened Pat was "showered" with confetti from an umbrella above her. She thanked the guests for the lovely gifts and invited everyone to the wedding dance to be held in the Gainford Hall.

A committee of ladies served a delicious lunch.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Yellowhead Route Will Boost Economy

A short side trip out of Jasper last week revealed the few miles of Yellowhead Highway we travelled a far cry from the trail we meandered over a few years ago. A wide highway, tumbling mountain streams and soaring vistas of snow peaks await travellers when the route is completed.

Completion of the highway will be a boon to communities along Highway 16 west of Edmonton that already enjoy a large annual influx of visitors. A little of the prosperity might also rub off on Drayton Valley.

Highway 57, since the completion of paving, is attracting many more travellers. It is an ideal route for visitors travelling north and south and wishing to avoid the necessity of driving through Edmonton. As word of the cut-off is passed around we believe our community will see increasing tourist trade.

Protection of Private Records

To prevent abuses against individuals, every teacher should receive a regular printout of the information about him gathered for record-information and stored on magnetic tape banks in connection with educational data systems, according to Dr. T. C. Byrne, Alberta deputy minister of education, reported in School Progress.

He suggested that a similar safeguard might not be practical for students for some time but he did not rule it out. Dr. Byrne feels that by providing individual record transcripts regularly, errors, irrelevant information and unauthorized access problems could be corrected.

Extensive records have been kept on paper files for years without being questioned, Dr. Byrne noted, but now that it is being transferred to magnetic tapes, a beneficial side-effect is that people are beginning to think about the whole question. The procedure used in coding information for computer processing actually affords some protection to the individual, he said, because vague statements and value judgments do not lend themselves to coding.

Alberta Net Farm Income Down 22.9 Percent in 1967

The total net farm income for Alberta in 1967 was down 22.9 percent from the 1966 figure, it was announced recently by the Statistics Branch Alberta Department of Agriculture. Net income was $297,188,000 in 1967 compared to $385,449,000 in 1966.

The difference in net income for 1967 compared to the year previous was largely due to a change in inventory of $86,744,000. In 1966, value of inventory was $46,673,000 while in 1967 it was $40,071,000. The change in inventory, then, was $86,744,000.

The change in inventory in 1967 saw wheat stocks down 15 million bushels at year-end, oats down 17 million bushels and barley down 9 million bushels, according to R. E. English, former head of the Statistics Branch, who is temporarily employed by the branch. The farm inventory was reduced even further with 9,000 less cattle on Alberta farms in 1967 compared to 1966. Only with hogs was the inventory up, there being 90,000 more hogs on farms in 1967 compared to 1966.

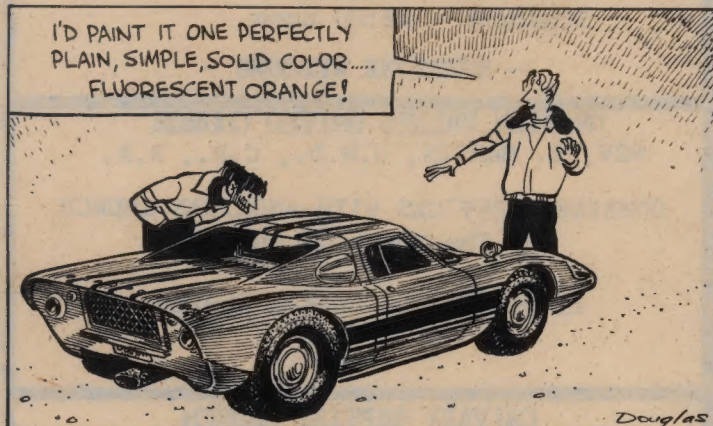

The biggest increase in farm operating expenses was fertilizer which went up 40.9 percent. Due to this great increase in its use, the 1967 fertilizer bill was $37,477,000 compared to $26,563,000 in 1966.

Fuel and lubricants were the biggest single item on the operating and depreciation bill for 1967. The 1967 bill was $62,633,000 up six percent over 1966. This very large charge for fuel and lubricants reflects the widespread mechanization on Alberta farms.

Second highest expense item in 1967 was the payment of interest on indebtedness; at $45,031,000 it was 7.5 percent higher than last year. Wages to farm labor where the third highest item, at $41,347,000 they were up 10.9 percent higher than 1966. Wages to farm labor in 1967 were noticeably larger than 1966 and 1965 because higher wages were paid.

Brief Presented at Edmonton Hearing

The following brief was presented at the recent hearing in the Department of Municipal Affairs in Edmonton by Mr. Frank Hoge of Violet Grove, chairman of the I.D. 77 Advisory Board.

COUNTY PROPOSAL BY THE M.D. OF STONY PLAIN

Mr. Chairman:

I am present at this hearing in my capacity as a ratepayer and as a member of the Advisory Committee for Improvement District No. 77 and I wish to convey to the hearing the opinion of the ratepayers that I represent.

First I wish to state that the residents of I.D. 77 have no wish to change their municipal status at all; they are well satisfied with the present municipal administration.

Secondly, if the powers that be, do not see fit to let us remain as we are, (and I see no valid reason for change) then let me state that we object most strongly to the proposal put forth by the Municipal District of Stony Plain No. 84.

It has always been my understanding that changes should be for the better, that there should be progress involved, and that improvements of some kind would be forthcoming. May I ask some questions in this respect: if the proposed county is set up will we have better school facilities than we have now? Will there be a higher standard of education, better teachers, better classrooms? Will our Municipal administration be better and cheaper, will we have more and better roads, will there be fewer welfare recipients, will our taxes be lowered? I think that there can only be a negative answer to any or all of the foregoing questions.

I suggest that the proposal of the M.D. of Stony Plain is nothing more or less than an ill-concealed attempt to increase their tax base by the acquisition of the assessment in Improvement District No. 77. In the not too distant past, prior to the discovery of oil in the Drayton Valley area, there was no wish on the part of the M.D. to annex I.D. 77, I believe it can be shown that they were even adverse to having the Tomahawk area included in their boundaries, so at is obvious that their desire to now enlarge their boundaries is not generated by any altruism on the part of the Municipal Council.

It seems to us that this is a most undemocratic procedure. Should not the people resident in this area proposed to be annexed, be permitted to voice their opinion by means of a plebiscite?

If the Minister of Municipal Affairs is determined to force self-government upon us, then I would suggest that we go along with the proposal which is being put forth by the Town of Drayton Valley; we would then at least have our seat of local government in approximately the geographical and recreational centre; and would perhaps be in position to better our school facilities.

The former Minister of Municipal Affairs has stated publicly that he would not force organization on any area; but if they wished to form a Municipal District or County; then he would give every assistance. Has this policy been changed? Are we to be swallowed up by a Municipal District because we have good roads, a large assessment, money in the bank and are debt free? Would the M.D. be so anxious to acquire I.D. 77 if we had a low assessment, were deeply in debt and were badly behind in road construction; I think not.

EDUCATION

Fifteen years ago this area was of small population with a small country school (eight rooms) and was adequately looked after by the nearest settlement of any size i.e. Stony Plain. This was a logical arrangement. Even during the early growth of the area, this arrangement was quite suitable. However, as the billion dollar oilfield known as the Pembina Field developed, the population stabilized; the facilities developed within the town of Drayton Valley, centrally located within the development, and the trading area population has risen to 22,000 people.

It is no longer practical or reasonable to have this area administered by a board operating from just outside the city limits of Edmonton. In other words, what has happened is that the "foster child" has now become of age and is now better able to administer itself than are its "parents".

We feel that I.D. 77 assessment could be better utilized and more economically administered to supply education for I.D. 77 rather than as an after-thought in the administration of the incorporation of this area with Stony Plain as has been the case in the past with severe and deleterious results in the education of our children. This has been a severe handicap in the provision of adequate facilities and teaching staff for the 1,500 school children attending school here and in the rest of the area.

HEALTH

The town of Drayton Valley now boasts clinics with five medical doctors and a dentist (and plans, it would appear for an increase in this facility plus two pharmacies)

The Health Unit, not unlike the picture that we find is true in education, is operated from Edson (note, education by Stony Plain, health by Edson).

Here again, an area of the largest population in the health unit is being administered from a smaller centre ninety miles away. Here again, the facilities and staff suffer because the "foster child" has outgrown its allotted position within the unit. In addition to this development, a large portion of the trading area of Drayton Valley has extended until it daily serves the population from Wildwood to Warburg. These people come to the Drayton Valley hospital and doctors and pharmacies for their normal health needs and would prefer their health unit services from the same trading centre. This service would be much more adequately supplied by Edson, as it is now, than by Stony Plain.

HIGHWAYS

At present, the highways are looked after by the Highways Department in Edson. Many roads were also supplied without cost to the I.D. by the oil companies.

Lots of thrills and excitement when Capt. John Richard appears in the steel caged arena with his eight fighting, ferocious jungle cats, and will appear at each performance with Carson and Barnes Big Tent Circus in Drayton Valley on Saturday, August 24th.

Without any criticism of the fine service that the Department of Highways has extended over the past fifteen years, a County government with a seat in Drayton Valley would most certainly be able to supply more prompt highway repairs and maintenance. If this service were ever to become a part of the responsibility of Stony Plain, a severe loss would be expected from present standards and in this regard, we are most concerned that this should not happen. The Department of Highways, (albeit perhaps less efficiently than we could do from our County Seat, if it were here) has given us much better highway maintenance than would be supplied by a seat in Stony Plain, who would tend to divert some of the taxation realized from this area to improve roads in the present Municipal District of Stony Plain.

This, it is realized is one of the reasons why Stony Plain M.D. would like to add the assessment from I.D. 77 to their own present M.D. assessments. The total assessment of I.D.'s 77 and 78 as presented by our committee would be in excess of that of Red Deer County. It is quite obvious why any M.D. or county would like to be able to incorporate it with their own. But, unfortunately our experience with the Stony Plain School District has made us very wary of accepting administration of any of our municipal services from that centre.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

The growth of this area over the past fifteen years has been phenomenal in the growth picture of the Province of Alberta due to the development of the largest oilfield in area extent of any oilfield in the world. This was accomplished with the completion of trading facilities and services which might be expected by a permanent development of this nature. The annual growth of this developing area is continuing.

Being as it is the growing area between Thorsby in the east and Wildwood in the north west and the opening of the communications and roads between Drayton Valley and the country around Nordegg, and thence to the Banff-Jasper highway (which are already in the eventual plans for the area) we feel that we are justified in expecting continued growth to industry, tourist facilities and associated development. This area, in other words, will far eclipse the development which has already occurred, and will become annually less and less feasible to be adequately incorporated within an administration by Stony Plain. We feel that administration must come from within this area.

The people of this area are mostly young people trained in a great variety of professions and technologies. In fact we make the claim of having more highly trained people in this area than any other rural area of similar size in Alberta. Not only do we have the usual graduates in medicine, pharmacy, dentistry, veterinary medicine, and educationists as might occur in any other area, but we also have experts in civil engineering, petro-chemical engineering, electrical technology and oilfield conservation experts, to name a few. These people serve as fine leaders on our various councils and committees and it is from among these leaders that we wish to choose the people who will lead the development of this new area of Alberta.

If the present Stony Plain Municipality would like to partake of the advantages of this grade of leadership, we would invite them to request that they be incorporated into the new county. Surely, it is a step backwards to reverse this procedure.

In conclusion I would like to again state that the majority of the residents of Improvement District No. 77 are unalterably opposed to the proposal of the M.D. of Stony Plain, and that they wish their Municipal status to remain unchanged.

It is difficult to believe today that just over fifteen years ago the area west of Sick's Lethbridge Brewery looked more like a garbage dump than one of the most beautiful gardens in Alberta.

It was then that E. S. (Al) Neils, then General Manager of the Brewery and now Vice-President of Molson's for the Alberta region, had the idea of making the area into the beautiful gardens it is today. Located at the entrance to Lethbridge the gardens are visited by thousands each year.

The Lethbridge Brewery has developed a theme for each season including Christmas and Easter. Last summer the Centennial theme was featured and the gardens proved to be a haven for artists, photographers, tourists, and visitors to southern Alberta.

The Lethbridge Brewery gardens are evidence that when man applies his efforts and imagination to the wonders of nature - the results become wonders in themselves.

Entwistle Community Church Setting for Marriage Ceremony

The Entwistle Community Church was the setting for the wedding of Patricia Ann McCracken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCracken of Magnolia, and Terry Howard Brydges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brydges of Tomahawk. Pastor R. Koehn officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a princess style white gown of silk brocade with matching train. Her shoulder length tulle veil was held in place by a pearl and rhinestone tiara and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaids, sisters of the bride, wore princess style gowns of silk brocade; Gail in pale blue, Mary Jane in pink, and Linda in yellow, complimented by white accessories and rhinestone tiaras. They carried matching rosebuds en bouquets.

Flower girl Valarie Brydges, sister of the groom, looked charming in a princess style pale blue gown of silk brocade. She carried a basket of assorted flowers.

Ring bearer was Colin McCracken, brother of the bride.

Best men were Grant Brydges brother of the groom; Elton McCracken, brother of the bride; and Gilbert Greenwood, friend of the bride and groom.

Fred McCracken, brother of the bride and Doug MacDougall, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

Organist was Mrs. Cameron. Mrs. Dorothy MacDougall, great aunt of the bride, sang "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McCracken wore a powder blue sheath dress of rayon linen with a lace jacket, complimented by matching accessories and a pink rose corsage.

A reception was held at the Gainford Elks Hall. Master of ceremonies was Don Peden; Mr. Ed McCracken, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast, and Mrs. A. McCracken, grand mother of the bride, said grace.

A three-tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by the bride's aunt, Marie MacDougall of Keephills, was in the centre of the bride's table, flanked by decorated pink candles and bouquets of flowers.

A dance was held later in the evening after the bride and groom opened their gifts.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a navy blue suit, white accessories and pink roses en corsage.

After a trip to Jasper and B.C. the happy couple will make their home at Magnolia.

Everything is the biggest in Texas! A Texan complained of having the biggest bellyache in the world, so he was rushed to a hospital in Baytown, Texas. He turned out to be right too, being relieved of a 9-inch appendix--7 inches longer than normal and perhaps the longest in medical records.

A matron approached a salesgirl and inquired as to the whereabouts of the perfume counter.

"Just walk this way," said the girl, taking the lead.

"Hmmm," said the customer, "If I could walk that way, I wouldn't be here buying perfume!"

Permits Issued for Import Of 238 Head European Cattle

Agriculture Minister H. A. Olson announced recently that permits are being issued for the importation of 238 head of breeding cattle from Continental Europe this fall.

The cattle will first be quarantined in the country of origin and then held during the winter at the Canada Department of Agriculture's maximum security quarantine station at Grosse Ile, an island in the St. Lawrence River.

The importations will include cattle from both France and Switzerland.

Of the 238 head being imported, seven will go to breeders in Nova Scotia, two head to New Brunswick, 17 to Quebec, 44 to Ontario, 15 to Manitoba, 54 to Saskatchewan, 72 to Alberta, 17 to British Columbia, and 10 to the Canada Department of Agriculture.

As in the past year, the demand for import permits has far exceeded available space at the Grosse Ile station. This year 316 breeders requested permits for 2,000 head.

This year to speed up the establishment of breeding herds in this country, applications were considered for the importation of more than one animal by an individual breeder. The 1968 maximum is six animals per applicant. Livestock experts agree that its difficult and slow procedure to develop a breeding herd from a nucleus of only one or two animals. Six head will allow the individual to develop a well-rounded program.

Each prospective importer was required to submit an application in which he clearly spelled out his proposed breeding program.

"The Department's aim is to ensure, as far as humanly possible, that the import program will be used to the greatest possible benefit of Canadian livestock farmers," the Minister said.

All permit applications were received by a committee comprised of animal scientists and breeders. Priorities were assigned on the basis of the breeding program outlined by each applicant when he submitted his request.

Applicants falling in the highest priority grouping received a permit for the maximum number, that is, six cattle.

Those with lesser priorities received descending numbers of cattle in relation to the priority rating.

Consideration was next given to those applicants with lower priorities who have been previous importers, and had maintained their cattle in their own name for breeding purposes. Each of these received a permit to import one animal.

"The purpose of importing cattle from Continental Europe is to build up breeding herds of these animals in Canada that will be self-sustaining,"

Mr. Olson said, "That is, herds that could continue to produce seed stock for the Canadian livestock industry should the source of breeding animals be cut off in Europe by, for instance, a serious outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in France or Switzerland."

The importations were begun in 1965 to give Canadian breeders access to previously unavailable sources of cattle bloodlines which could add to the efficiency of the Canadian livestock industry.

The quarantine period on Grosse Ile is for a minimum of 90 days but because of the exhaustive testing required and ice conditions in the St. Lawrence River at that time of year, it is not expected that cattle will be released from the island until next April.

Importers are required to pay for the care and feeding of the livestock, both at the Brest, France, quarantine station and on Grosse Ile as well as charges for special tests required on these animals. In addition, importers will pay a quarantine charge. These charges are such that the program, including amortization of costs on capital expenditures, is self-liquidating.

Cattle imported from Continental Europe must meet stringent health requirements and go through a multitude of tests, all under the direct supervision of CDA veterinarians

Mr. Darragh was taken to an Edmonton hospital recently. We wish you a speedy recovery Mr. Darragh.

Dorothy Blake was taken to the hospital on Monday. Instead of birthday spankings Tuesday she got needles. We hope you have a happier birthday next year Dorothy.

On Tuesday, July 24 Marion Kmyta went to Seba Beach to visit Brenda Eaton. Wednesday Brenda and Marion took the bus to Edmonton to visit Marion's brother, Andy and family, and to take in Klondike Days celebrations. They came back Friday. Of course they had a real good time.

Kathy and Jim Kelly and Nester, Florence, Judy and Joanne Mayouski were visitors at the Mike Kmyta home, July 27th. All were from Edmonton.

Andy, Liz, Sheila, Debbie and Raymond Kmyta were visitors at Andy's folks, Mike and Mary Kmyta last week. Sheila stayed out with Grandma and Grandpa and Bobby went to Edmonton to visit.

Mrs. S. Yurchak and Kathy motored to Calgary on the weekend to bring back Mr. and Mrs. W. Norquay is shown above with a double leafed rhubarb stalk picked in Lester Miller's garden in Drayton Valley. Old time gardeners noted that this is quite a rarity in the vegetable world.

Dist. Home Economist

Does it not strike you rather odd that Canadian and Americans should be poorly nourished?

The fact is that in this land of plenty, many people are overfed but undernourished.

In a study done in the United States in 1965 it was found that 50% of the households had diets rated as "good". This means the diets met the recommended dietary allowances for protein, minerals and vitamins.

20% of households had diets rated as poor because they provided less than 2/3 of the required amount of nutrients studied.

30% of families whose diets rated fair.

40% of households with incomes under $3,000 had poor diets. Even at higher and at the highest income levels, some poor diets were noted.

Part of the problem can be attributed to decreased use of milk and milk products, vegetables and fruits. These foods are the main sources of calcium, ascorbic acid and vitamin A.

Do you know what nutrients your family must eat every day? Do you know what foods these are found in?

For information in this regard write to Marlene Jubenvill District Home Economist, 10426-81st Avenue, Edmonton.

The time had come for the farm lad to start feeling his oats. He approached his father, and said, "Dad, I'm leaving home. I'm going to find fame, adventure, fortune, beautiful women. Don't try to stop me, dad... my mind's made up."

The old man jumped from his chair. "Who's trying to stop you!" he exclaimed. "I'm going with you."

Massey-Ferguson challenges big prices for big combines:

MF 410

Only combine in its price range to offer all these advanced design features

The MF 410 Combine, always a leader for value, has been made even better with important design improvements. Now more than ever the MF 410 is the combine to buy for advances like these:

- New Triple Screen Cascade Shoe is the first breakthrough in shoe design since invention of the threshing machine. Three screens are used instead of the usual two to prevent matting of material. A 25% larger cleaning area greatly increases grain cleaning ability.
- New "Returns Cylinder" is a genuine rasp bar cylinder like the main cylinder; it threshes over 90% of the returns. This independent processing of returns in a separate cylinder allows the main cylinder to always be set for optimum speed and concave clearance.
- New Front Beater feeds material smoothly and evenly into the cylinder (optional). Incorporates New Larger Stone Trap that's easy to clean.
- New Quick-Attach puts you in the field faster—you can switch from corn head to bean table or back again in five minutes!

Other MF 410 features include Console Control that permits adjustments to be made on-the-go from the driver's seat. Big 73 bu. grain bin (or 105 bu. with extensions). Exclusive Center Balance design puts new efficiency at your command—and greater safety.

Check out these and many other advantages Massey-Ferguson has built into a remarkable combine. You won't be content to settle for less. Especially when you see how little it costs to buy the MF 410's extra capability, convenience, and operator comfort.

A NOVEL PROGRAM of therapy is proving of value at the Alberta Hospital, Ponoka, where patients are being allowed considerable latitude in expressing opinions and making suggestions and decisions in regard to hospital regulations which concern them and their activities. This program of involvement or "patient government" as it is called, was inaugurated in a move designed to bring the patients closer to the world around them, to ward off alienation from their surroundings and treatment and to ease the ennui that frequently attends life in any large institution whether it be a hospital, sanatorium, or orphanage.

A hospitalized person suffering from certain types of mental disorder may for various reasons show lassitude, loss of sense of individuality, an apparent inability to plan for the future and a loss of interest in his or her surroundings and things in general.

The current program of patient involvement is ideally adapted to the treatment of such hospitalized persons. Changed now is the old approach of saying, in effect, "These people are not capable of producing anything significant in the manner of healthy persons, therefore, let us just accept whatever they give."

Hospital Residents Govern Selves During Treatment

The approach now is to strongly request of the patient everything that he is capable of putting forth, stopping short of being too demanding. It is felt that overprotectiveness fosters infantilism, that asking too little deprives the patient of the therapy of challenge. The staff at Alberta Hospital is told, "Don't expect too little — ask for enough." This they do, and the response fosters enthusiasm in the staff.

The program centres in the Alberta Hospital Patients' Council, an administrative body elected from among the patients and charged with a measure of self government. To quote from the Council's constitution, it is "to act for and in the best interests of the patients of the member wards . . . subject to the approval of the Medical, Recreational and other authorities." The Council is made up of representatives from each ward and its executive is democratically elected from among its own ranks. It meets regularly to consider possible suggestions to authorities regarding conditions and arrangements within the hospital and consider various projects in which the patients involve themselves.

The essence of the success of the program is that the activities and projects undertaken by the patients are not idle, inconsequential pastimes but meaningful contributions to those around them. When a park that had existed on the hospital grounds had to give way for new construction, the patients took it on themselves to construct a new Centennial Park. They landscaped the grounds and equipped the park with barbecue pits and a refreshment kiosk. Other patients are charged with the responsibility of operating the hospital's coffee shop, a responsibility they discharge with sufficient acumen to show a substantial profit.

Still others are engaged in such activities as making plastic bags or doing carpentry for commercial concerns. The money earned accrues to the patients doing the work, but a small assessment is made in the same manner as society levies taxes. The disbursement of money received by the Council is decided at general meetings by majority vote. It may be used to hold a social function for the patients at the hospital or it may be used to make a donation to some outside charitable organization. At Christmas, the Patients' Council made a twenty-five dollar donation to a children's home in Calgary.

From a medical point of view the results of the program of self government by the patients have been astonishingly gratifying. Patients in apathetic states, withdrawn and uncommunicative, have been carried once more to an awareness of themselves as individuals and the things around them, able to share in the rich experience of accomplishment and self-fulfillment. Charged with meaningful tasks that needed doing, the patients have felt challenged and needed. Their response, almost inevitably, has been a greater interest in life and themselves — a sound basis for positive, effective therapy.

Louis Riel (centre) and his council, 1870. The Messianic Metis leader, who is sometimes called the Father of Manitoba, was executed for high treason by John A. Macdonald's Conservative federal government in November, 1885 at Regina, after Riel led an up-rising in Manitoba in 1869-70 and a rebellion in Saskatchewan in the spring of 1885. His jury trial and execution when Macdonald refused to reprieve him, reflected the painful political and territorial consolidation of Canada and intensified English-French bitterness.

Riel chose death before dishonour by protesting his own lawyer's plea of insanity, the only plea that could save him. This suited the prosecution and consequently Riel's mental fitness was never properly tested by competent medical specialists during his trial.

Whatever the case he gave effective leadership to a legitimate cause. In a sense he committed suicide to underline his crusade.

Riel rose to prominence in 1869-70. He organized English and French half-breeds (mostly descendants of fur-traders) and other early settlers and farmers in the Red River valley of Manitoba, before it was officially part of Canada. He helped them preserve their land and fought for their rights against the expanding dominion of the new federal government, which had bought huge tracts of land in the west from the Hudson's Bay Co.

Long before the official federal land takeover, new Canadian settlers began encroaching and land speculators moved in. Surveyors tramped through the Red River Valley, threatening to chop up the original community system of river lots, which the 12,000 Metis and their allies had cleared and settled peacefully. Federal government planners had neither informed nor consulted the original settlers, and Ottawa had failed to offer them rights or representation.

Organizing quickly, the settlers formed the Comite National de Metis, with Riel as secretary, and in later 1869, they peacefully but firmly turned back the 60-wagon entourage of William McDougall, a cold intractable easterner sent out to become the first governor. Riel then peacefully occupied Upper Fort Garry, and was elected president of an English and Metis provisional government which drafted a Bill of Rights. Ottawa suspended its plans and sent commissioners to negotiate terms. Both sides accepted a new Manitoba Act in 1870, which preserved the pioneer land system along the river. But there was an unfortunate clash of temperament between Riel and a troublesome, defiant Canadian prisoner of the Metis - Thomas Scott. Eventually Scott threatened Riel's life and was court martialled, condemned and shot.

Agitators in Ontario portrayed Scott as an Orangeman martyr at the hands of Catholic-French half-breed ruffians. The embarrassed federal government had sent a military expedition (mainly of young Orangemen) to ensure Manitoba's peaceful birth, but during the difficult 96-day trek, the undisciplined troop decided to take revenge against Scott's death. They looted Metis homes, killed some Metis leaders and drove many of the settlers into Saskatchewan.

Riel escaped. He was elected to federal parliament while in hiding, but Ottawa refused to let him take his seat, and gave him a $5,000 bribe to leave the country.
